Biographical/Historical note

History of the Cox and Reece Investigations at the Rockefeller Foundation

The Cox and Reece Investigation files document the Rockefeller Foundation and General Education Board's preparation for and response to investigations by the United States House of Representatives Select Committee to Investigate Tax-Exempt Foundations and Comparable Organizations, which were held between 1952-1954. The first investigation was headed by Edward Eugene Cox (R-Georgia) and the second by B. Carroll Reece (R-Tennessee).

The Cox investigation involved subpoenaed responses to a lengthy questionnaire, followed by hearings, at which Dean Rusk, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, testified for the Foundation and the General Education Board, which was inactive, but which maintained a corporate existence whose affairs were administered by the Foundation.

The Reece investigation also involved responses to written questions, but hearings were not held. In the course of the investigations, the political orientation of various organizations was scrutinized, including the Rockefeller Foundation and the GEB, in part by focusing on the political orientation of grant and fellowship recipients, both individuals and institutions.

Scope and Contents note

The preponderance of the collection consists of various summaries of the Rockefeller Foundation and GEB grant administration files prepared by the Foundation staff for use by senior staff and Foundation counsel as they responded to written questions from the Cox and Reece investigations and as they prepared for Dean Rusk's testimony at the Cox committee hearing.

The collection is indexed with a number and letter system that made efficient research feasible, in case such reference work had been needed during live testimony. Card indexes also exist.

Although most of the information that appears in these records also occurs in grant administration and program and policy files of the Rockefeller Foundation and the General Education Board, as the case may be, the format of these records and the configurations of the information make the records unique in the context of the Foundation and the GEB collections, and offer insight into how the Foundation responded to the congressional investigations.

Two particular aspects of the Cox and Reece Investigation files not duplicated in the main body of the Rockefeller Foundation and the General Education Board records are the source and citation summaries, as well as the subject files and those documenting the political climate.

Digest Files

Scope and Contents

Digest Files contain materials from the Rockefeller Foundation, China Medical Board, General Education Board and Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial grant and fellowship administration files relating to specific grants to individuals, institutions and projects, to general subjects such as program, policy and propaganda to the personnel. Separate files for individuals and specific projects are arranged numerically and are recorded both in a numerical and alphabetical sheet index. Most of this material was prepared for the Cox investigation and the details of its preparation are described in Mr. Albrights' memorandum re: The Scope and Method of Preparation for the Cox Committee Investigation. During the Reece investigation new material was added to these files and these new files were prepared the same way. The files added during the Reece investigation are typed on blue paper. In addition to the information in the sheet indices names referred to in the digests prepared for the Cox investigation and names of the persons supported by the grants for Regional Studies.

Washington D. C. Files

Scope and Contents

The material in Part III was prepared for use at the hearings. Consequently these files are referred to as the "Washington Files." They contain background and supporting material for the answers to the Cox questionnaire and for the preparation of the statement to the Reece Committee. Some of this material was prepared especially for the investigations; some was collected from the RF and GEB files and some from outside sources. It is fully described in the Part III Numerical Index and is indexed alphabetically with the material in Part II. The material is divided into two sections; the first contains Rockefeller Foundation and general material and the second General Education Board material.
