Biographical / Historical

Hao Wang was born on May 20, 1921 in Jinan (Tsinan) in what is today the People's Republic of China. Wang grew up in China, and received his Bachelor's degree in Mathematics from the National Southwestern Associated University in 1943, and his Master's degree in Philosophy from Tsing Hua University in 1945.

Wang moved to the United States, and in 1948, he received his Ph.D. in Philosophy from Harvard University. He remained at Harvard as a Junior Fellow of the Society of Fellows (from 1948 to 1951) and was subsequently appointed as Assistant Professor of Philosophy.

In 1954, Wang travelled to England, where he served as John Locke Lecturer and as Reader in the Philosophy of Mathematics (1956-1961) at Oxford University. Upon reentry into the United States, Wang returned to Harvard as Gordon McKay Professor of Mathematical Logic and Applied Mathematics. During his tenure at Harvard, Wang also collaborated with the Burroughs Corporation, the University of Michigan, the International Business Machine Corporation (IBM), Bell Laboratories, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT).

In 1967, Wang joined the faculty of the Rockefeller University, a position he would hold until his death. Although the Logic Research Group was disbanded in 1976, Wang remained at the University, continuing his research and work in mathematics, logic, and philosophy. Wang's early research was in computer science, artificial intelligence, and automated theorem proving, and in the 1960s, he introduced domino problems ("Wang tiles"). Later in his career, Wang focused his attention on the life and writings of the mathematician-philosopher Kurt Gödel. Prior to his death in 1978, Gödel allowed Wang to have many in-depth discussions with him; one product of these conversations was Wang's 1987 book "Reflections on Kurt Gödel."

Wang was a member of the Association of Symbolic Logic and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was named Honorary Professor at both Peking University (1985) and Tsing Hua University (1986). In addition to numerous articles, Wang authored "Logic, Computers and Sets" (1962), "From Mathematics to Philosophy" (1974), "Popular Lectures on Mathematical Logic" (1981), "Beyond Analytic Philosophy: Doing Justice to What We Know" (1985), and "A Logical Journey: From Gödel to Philosophy" (1996). In 1983, Wang was awarded the first Milestone Prize for Automated Theorem Proving.

Hao Wang died of lymphoma at the age of 73 on May 13, 1995.

Scope and Contents

Types of records include: biographical material, manuscripts, notes, reprints, and photographs.

^ Return to Table of Contents

Arrangement

The collection is arranged into six distinct series based on subject matter and media:

Series 1, Biographical Materials Series 2, Office Files Series 3, Manuscripts, Notes, and Notebooks
Series 4, Reprints Series 5, Materials in Chinese Series 6, Audio-Visual and Miscellaneous Materials

Series 1, Biographical Materials, is arranged alphabetically, and includes information on Wang's personal and academic life, including bibliographies, vita, biographical essays, and family correspondence.

Series 2, Office Files, is arranged alphabetically and is a hybrid of correspondence, subject files, and manuscripts (typically authored by others).

Series 3, Manuscripts, Notes, and Notebooks, is the largest series of material, and is also arranged alphabetically. This series consists of Wang's notes, various drafts of manuscripts written by Wang (either for an article or book), as well as a set of research notebooks kept by Wang. Series 4, Reprints, is arranged alphabetically by reprint title; nearly all reprints are authored by Wang.

Series 5, Materials in Chinese, is arranged alphabetically, and consists of files whose contents were almost or entirely in Chinese. Folders in this series include manuscripts, notes, and correspondence.

Series 6, Audio-Visual and Miscellaneous Materials, includes three folders of photographs, one cassette tape, and two sets of a reprint index card catalog kept by Wang.

Processing Information

Using the Finding Aid:

Folder titles have been assigned by the processing archivist for materials that were received loose or in unlabeled folders.

Conditions Governing Access

Open for research with select materials restricted as noted. Brittle or damaged items are available at the discretion of RAC. Researchers interested in accessing digital media (floppy disks, CDs, DVDs, etc.) or audiovisual material (audio cassettes, VHS, etc.) in this collection must use an access surrogate. The original items may not be accessed because of preservation concerns. To request an access surrogate be made, or if you are unsure if there is an access surrogate, please contact an archivist.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

The Hao Wang Papers were acquired by the Rockefeller University/Rockefeller Archive Center in 1995 and 1996, with small additions to the collection received in 2005 and 2006.

Processing Information

This collection was processed by Bethany J. Antos. Standard processing began in May 2010 and was completed in August 2012.

Conditions Governing Use

Rockefeller Archive Center holds title, copyright and literary rights in the collection, in so far as it holds them, and has authority to grant permission to cite and publish archival material from the collection.

Reproduction/duplication of archival items is routinely provided in accordance with "fair use". If the RAC does not hold copyright for an archival collection, or items within a collection, it is the users' responsibility to contact the copyright holder, or make a fair effort to do so, prior to publication.
