Title:	Ford Foundation records, Office of the President and Advisor on Program Management, Office Files of Merrimon Cuniggim

Date [inclusive]:	1973-1975
Physical Description:	4.4 Cubic Feet
Language of the Material:	English
Abstract:	The Office Files of Merrimon Cuniggim were transferred to the Archives in 1975. At that time some reports were removed and cross-reference sheets inserted to mark the original location of the removed reports. A list of these reports is appended to the register (Appendix A). Because these files document the evaluation process, the decision was made to keep material that would usually be transferred to another record group or discarded. Most of this material has been annotated by Mr. Cuniggim or Ms. Bruckner: staff and consultant reports, speeches, foundation publications, and drafts of their reports. The extensive notes which cross-reference among the files have also been retained. No attempt was made to recognize the files; the original order of this material has been maintained.

Scope and Contents

The Office Files of Merrimon Cuninggim document his work as Advisor on Program Management, 1973-1975. They consist of 5 linear feet of reports, correspondence, memoranda, press releases, and RGA's (recommended for grant action). The bulk of the material is dated 1973-1975 but contains some retrospective material as well.

In a 2 December 1972 memorandum to the Board of Trustees, President McGeorge Bundy proposed the appointment of Dr. Merrimon Cuninggim as a full-time consultant. Mr. Bundy suggested that "Merrimon Cuninggim might join us for a year or two, with the assignment to study all our ways and means of work as a candid professional critic with full access to the Board, to the staff, and to interested outside parties." Mr. Cuninggim began his assignment in March 1973, he, and his assistant Mary Bruckner, completed the work in May 1975.

Mr. Cuninggim examined the following "ways and means" of the Foundation:

• public understanding of the Foundation; • outside relationships with the government, other foundations, and grantees; • program grants to independent institutions, individuals, dependencies, and other program activities; • the decision-making process (grants); • personnel (Ford's people, personnel policies, and affirmative action) • support (organizational structure, finances, other material support, and style); • and priorities, values and institutional philosophy

These files document the process of the review and contain the materials which Mr. Cuninggim and Ms. Bruckner used in conducting the evaluation, as well as the 9 reports and 44 memoranda which Mr. Cuninggim and Ms. Bruckner prepared for Mr. Bundy (folders 122-135). The Office Files provide a background for the work of the Advisor on Program Management; they do not substitute for the final report, "All our ways and means of work--"/"Summaries of major reports" (report #002789).
