Biographical/Historical note

The central figure in the creation and operation of the Standard Oil Company during its rise to the top of the petroleum industry, John D. Rockefeller (JDR) established for the family a leading role in business and philanthropy. From the days of his earliest employment, Rockefeller, a devout Baptist, was generous in his giving to worthy causes, especially those of a religious nature. During the 1890s he developed an orderly system of philanthropic giving through an office staff that included his close advisor, Frederick T. Gates (1853-1929) and his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr. (1874-1960). With the advise of these and other associates, Rockefeller established the University of Chicago, The Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research (now The Rockefeller University), the Rockefeller Foundation, and other philanthropic organizations working nationally and internationally in the fields of education, religion, and health. Rockefeller's total donations to philanthropic endeavors are estimated to have been $540 million.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. (JDR Jr.) joined his father's office on October 1, 1897. He oversaw the expansion and diversification of the philanthropic work begun by his father. During his lifetime, the younger Rockefeller gave more than $537 million to educational, religious, cultural, medical, and other charitable projects.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and his wife, Abby Aldrich Rockefeller (1874-1948), passed the Rockefeller philanthropic impulse on to their children. John D. 3rd (1906-1978), Nelson A. (1908-1979), Laurance S. (1910-2004), Winthrop (1912-1973), and David (1915-) further expanded and diversified Rockefeller influence and interests, establishing their own philanthropic organizations, most notably the Rockefeller Brothers Fund (1940), and becoming more active politically.

Scope and Contents note

The Office of the Messrs. Rockefeller (OMR) materials document the increasing role assumed by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. in the management of Rockefeller affairs and amply document his business and philanthropic affairs. They also chronicle the entrance of JDR Jr.'s sons, John D. 3rd, Nelson A., Laurance S., Winthrop, and David, into the world of business, philanthropy, civic leadership, and politics as they joined the office.

This material contains correspondence, reports, pamphlets, memoranda, deeds, maps, contracts, reports, minutes, charters, certificates of incorporation, clippings, diaries, notebooks, calendars, and memorabilia.

There is a microfilm card index of personal and institutional names.

Scope and Contents note

The Homes series documents the management of four of John D. Rockefeller, Sr.'s and John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s estates and their New York City homes. The estates are Ormond Beach, Florida; Lakewood, New Jersey; Pocantico Hills, New York; and Seal Harbor, Maine. The New York City homes are 4, 10, and 12 West 54th Street and the apartment at 740 Park Avenue. There is also information regarding John D. Rockefeller 3rd's apartment at One Beekman Place. Most of the material deals with property purchases, employees, the construction of homes, out buildings, and private roads, relations with neighbors and local communities, the contents of the houses (particularly art collections), and the general maintenance and operation of the various homes. The correspondence is between members of the family and the family office on the one hand, and estate managers, employees, contractors, real estate agents, neighbors, members of the various communities, and art dealers on the other.

The Homes series is divided into twelve sections, nine concern the homes listed above, and three others concern Richford; Transfer of Property; and House Books. The Richford section contains information on the purchase of the site of John D. Rockefeller, Sr.'s birthplace and surrounding property in the 1920s to prevent its commercial exploitation. The Transfer of Property section concerns the transfer of ownership of the various estates from John D. Rockefeller, Sr. to his son John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and the distribution of John D. Rockefeller, Sr.'s personal effects after his death. The House Books are listings and descriptions of the contents of the various houses. These lists also include the contents of Bassett Hall at Williamsburg, Virginia, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s office at Room 5600. Also included in these books are distributions of the personal effects of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Abby Aldrich Rockefeller, and Martha Baird Rockefeller after their respective deaths.

Aside from offering an insight into the management of the family estates and homes, this series also illustrates John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s personal interests in the conservation of land and wildlife and in collecting Chinese porcelains and other art objects. The series also gives many examples of the attention he gave to the details in every affair he handled.

The collection measures 98 cubic feet. The material covers the years 1885-1961, and the family members who figure prominently in the papers are John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and John D. Rockefeller 3rd. John D. Rockefeller, Sr., Abby Aldrich Rockefeller, Nelson A. Rockefeller, Winthrop Rockefeller, Laurance S. Rockefeller, and David Rockefeller also appear. Of the Rockefeller family advisors who appear, Robert W. Gumbel and Charles O. Heydt are the most prominent.

House Books

Scope and Contents

The House Books document the contents and distribution of several properties and collections of John D. Rockefeller Jr, his wives, and his children. The House Books are scrapbooks, inventories, and guidebooks to a wide range of artworks and belongings, organized by different houses owned by the Family. The Housebooks contains information concerning: the Chinese Porcelains collection, Kykuit and the Kykuit Playhouse, Bassett Hall, John D. Rockefeller Jr's Office, the Eyrie and Eyrie Playhouse, Hillcrest, distributions to his children and family members, and distributions to museums.

The Housebooks consists of approximately 9,325 pages, approximately 437 negatives and a card file. Among the pages are photographs (both color and black & white), note cards, gallery catalogue pages, newspaper and magazine clippings, brief biographies of artists, appraisals, memos and correspondence, excerpts from books, inventories, quotes, receipts, certificates of authenticity, estimates, building permits and building plans.

Processing Information:

Processing Information

Advanced Processing of the Housebooks was conducted in Summer 2012, primarily to address the long-term housing and preservation of the original items. The House Books were disbound and rehoused in archival folders and boxes in order to enhance accessibility. The photographic materials and fragile items have been sheathed in plastic and/or duplicated in order to prevent further damage to sensitive formats.

Arrangement

The House Books are loosely arranged by property, with folders arranged following the original order of the bound volumes with which the materials were original received. Within these folders are pictures of each of the pieces, typically organized by category (for example: the binders for each of the houses contained tabs such as “rugs” or “ornaments”, followed by information for all of the rugs or ornaments for that given property. Examples of categories include (but are not necessarily limited to): brass, candlesticks, ceramics, china, clocks, figures, flatware, furniture, glassware, lamps, misc, ornaments, pictures, sculpture, silver, or textiles. The documentation often includes (but is not necessarily limited to): pictures, location information, a brief description of the item, dimensions, place of purchase or appraisal, purchase price, date of purchase, gallery catalogue listings, and other information.

A large portion of the Housebooks pertains to distributions, with the first portion of the Distributions organized by dates (folders 1634-1639). The second portion of the Distributions is divided by the recipient of the items. The third portion of the “Distributions” is organized by appraisal number at the Parke-Bernet Gallery. The fourth portion of the “Distributions” binders is divided by the recipient. The fifth and final portion of the “Distributions” binders is organized by category (e.g. paintings, porcelains, and jewelry).

Negatives, Personal Property at Hillcrest

Arrangement

The Negatives are individually notated. (For example: each of the negatives has a label with a letter—explained by the key—and a number—to denote each negatives' place in the original order). The negatives are arranged alpha-numerically by their letter-number designation (for example: A12 precedes B1). There are several alpha-codes within the key that are not represented in the records (for example: there are no negatives labeled "F" which denotes Sofas), nor are the numbers always perfectly sequential (for example: there is no negative in the collection labeled D4, but there is a negative labeled D5). Several negatives may have the same label, but depict different objects (for example: there are four negatives labeled G18). Finally, there are several numbers that are represented by note cards or photographs instead of negatives.
