NOTE TO RESEARCHERS

This series contains a small portion of the office files of Hugh Morrow. They document his official activities in the execution of his duties as a member of Nelson A. Rockefeller's gubernatorial staff. The actions, decisions, and exchanges of information or points of view documented here occurred in the course of proposing and implementing policies for the Rockefeller administration and political campaigns. However, unless a document is personally signed by Nelson A. Rockefeller, or is referred to in a document personally signed by him, it should not be assumed that he saw the document or was aware of its existence or substance. Furthermore, researchers should bear in mind that files may contain documents or drafts addressed to Rockefeller which were never shown to him.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

This series contains a small portion of the files of Hugh Morrow, who served as a speech writer and special assistant to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller from November 1959 and was appointed Director of Communications on February 4, 1969.

Books and Articles, 1960-1971

Scope and Contents note

This subseries consists of drafts and correspondence regarding articles either prepared by Rockefeller or written for him by Hugh Morrow and others. Published copies are included for most of the articles. However, some files do not indicate whether publication actually occurred.

There is correspondence on the production of three books by Nelson Rockefeller. They are "Unity, Freedom and Peace," Rockefeller's stand on various issues written for the 1968 presidential race; "Dear Mr. President," an unpublished book on foreign policy drafted by Rodney Campbell; and "Our Environment Can Be Saved," Rockefeller's 1970 strategy for saving the environment and supporting the arts. There are slim files on two other books: "The Future of Federalism," the book version of Rockefeller's 1962 talks at Harvard University's Godkin Lecture Series, and "The Real Rockefeller," Frank Gervasi's 1964 biography. There are no drafts for any of the manuscripts. Copies of the published books are found in the Archive Center (noncirculating) library collection.
