Biographical / Historical

The National Committee on United States – China Relations (NCUSCR) was established in 1966 as a nonprofit educational organization with a mission to encourage mutual understanding and dialogue between citizens of the United States and China. The National Committee came into being through the cooperative efforts of scholars and civic, religious, and business leaders who, at a time of mutual hostility between the two countries, sought to stimulate public discussion about China and the United States' relations with it by sponsoring conferences, seminars, publications, and other education and outreach programs. In 1972, the National Committee sponsored the Chinese table tennis team's historic U. S. visit. This round of "Ping Pong Diplomacy," which followed closely on Richard Nixon's visit to China in February 1972, helped pave the way for later exchanges and, eventually, for the normalization of relations with China in 1979. Building on these cultural exchanges, the National Committee came to be a primary organizer of professional and policy exchanges between the two countries (and including Hong Kong and Taiwan), in the areas of foreign affairs and international relations, economic development, governance and legal affairs, education, mass media, environmental and global issues, etc. As its role in exchanges became more prominent, the National Committee turned over some of its educational programs to the Asia Society in the late 1970s, but it continues its educational role through public education events and ongoing outreach. Funding for the National Committee comes from the United States government (especially the Department of State), corporations, and foundations, as well as from its individual membership.

Scope and Contents

RG 6 of the National Committee on United States – China Relations records (1966-2009) particularly documents the National Committee's programs and activities during its formative years from the late 1960s through the 1970s. Materials include Board, Committee, and Members records, which document the NCUSCR's early program discussions and overall organizational history; records of public education and outreach programs in the early 1970s; and records documenting the National Committee's role in brokering information and facilitating exchanges in the 1970s-1980s. Other significant materials include records in the Development series of the National Committee's contract work for the U. S. Information Agency, the Department of State, and other government departments in the late 1980s – 2000s, and of grant support it received from various private foundations.

^ Return to Table of Contents

Arrangement

The records of the National Committee on United States – China Relations are divided into ten record groups, which reflect the order in which the records were received (but which are otherwise an artificial distinction). The records are sorted intellectually into series, which carry over through all record groups, but they have received minimal physical rearrangement. RG 6 of the NCUSCR records is arranged into seven series: 1 – Events; 2 – Exchanges - General; 3 – Exchanges to China; 8 – Programs, Projects, and Proposals; 10 – Development; 11 – Board of Directors, Committees, and Members records; and 15 – Clippings and Reference.

Events, 1968-1975, 2008

Scope and Contents

The Events series in RG 6 documents a series of public outreach programs the National Committee undertook in the early 1970s as a way of engaging members, attracting financial support, and fostering knowledge and awareness of China. The stand-alone events (usually luncheons, dinners, or one-day meetings) included Business Programs, Speaker Tours, and Regional Symposia on issues of U. S. – China relations. The Regional Symposia were frequently organized in cooperation with local World Affairs Councils.

Development, 1968-2009

Scope and Contents

The Development series in RG 6 contains records of the NCUSCR's funding from the U. S. government and private foundations. Files include proposals, grant applications, narrative and financial reports, and grant-related correspondence. Grants from the U. S. Information Agency (1985-2002), the U. S. Department of State (1998-2006), the Department of Education (1987-2007), and the Department of Labor (2002-2007), funded the National Committee's administration of the Fulbright seminars and educational exchange programs, as well as some cooperative projects. The USIA's grants to the National Committee became the subject of congressional investigation in the late 1990s; when the USIA was abolished in 1999, the State Department assumed responsibility for its exchange programs. This series also documents grants from private foundations, including the Ford Foundation (1988-2009), the Luce Foundation (1979-1999), the MacArthur Foundation (1987-2007), and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund (1979-1997), among others. Additional records relating to foundation funding are found in RG 5 (FA1187).

Board of Directors, Committees, and Members records, 1966-2006

Scope and Contents

The Board, Committees, Members series in RG 6 contains membership and committee records from 1966 to the mid-2000s. Membership materials concern nominations and recruitment and include lists of members by region and occupation, plus a run of Member Mailings files from 1966 to 2005. Records for various committees established in the late 1960s – early 1970s (Development, Education, Exchanges, Program Review, Fact-Finding, Finance, etc.), while spotty, provide some insight into the National Committee's early organizational history. Executive Committee Meetings and Mailings records, 1967-2003, and a Minutes Book (for the Board and Executive Committee), 1966-1975, also provide a more comprehensive picture of the National Committee's decisions and activities. Committee records and minutes in this series notably document the National Committee's decision in the mid-1970s to prioritize its cultural and educational exchange activities and to spin off its education program
