Biographical / Historical

Scott Halstead is a world leader in research on dengue and other arthropod-borne viral infections. He has published over 400 scientific papers and book chapters on many areas of vaccine research and in international health development. In 1990, while with the Rockefeller Foundation, he co-founded the Children's Vaccine Initiative.

Born in India, then moved to White Plains in 1936. Scott Halstead graduated from Yale University with a B.A. in 1951 and from Columbia University with a M.D. in 1955.

From 1983-1995, at the Rockefeller Foundation, he served successively as Associate, Deputy and Acting Director of the Health Sciences Division.

Conditions Governing Use

Rockefeller Foundation retains title, copyright and literary and intellectual property rights to the records, in so far as it holds them. RAC has authority to grant permission to publish for scholarly purposes.

Conditions Governing Access

Records more than 20 years old are open for research with select materials restricted as noted. Brittle or damaged items are available at the discretion of RAC. Researchers interested in accessing digital media (floppy disks, CDs, DVDs, etc.) or audiovisual material (audio cassettes, VHS, etc.) in this collection must use an access surrogate. The original items may not be accessed because of preservation concerns. To request an access surrogate be made, or if you are unsure if there is an access surrogate, please contact an archivist.
